

Edward Lee Simmons

December 6, 2022

On December 6, 2022, Eddie Simmons transitioned to the afterlife where he was joyfully welcomed by loved ones who preceded him. He was born January 8, 1988 in New Orleans, Louisiana. He began his career as an artist at The Hole Experience Tattoo in Baton Rouge. His exemplary commitment to art continued as an artist at Trader Joe's Grocery Store in Baton Rouge and then New Orleans. Eddie loved the magical, mystical and timelessness of New Orleans. He had occasion to show his inspired paintings at two House of Slop events and Undergrowth Coffee. Eddie's premiere solo show "Obscurus," January 2022, at Cottage Magick revealed many of his prodigious paintings—an undeniable public expression of his African Spiritual heritage, paranormal interests and respect for his own personal journey. His influence and impact on family and friends cannot be measured, and all will cherish their special memories of him. His sense of humor, wisdom, curiosities in herbal healing, and devotion to those he loved will continue to guide the family for generations to come, and he leaves a void that can never be filled. He is survived by his brothers Naaman Reed and his partner Ashleigh August of Chicago, IL, Raekwon Reed of Baton Rouge, LA, Christopher Martin of Baton Rouge, LA and his beloved Mandy Maude Culbreath of New Orleans, LA. A Celebration of Eddie's Life and Art will be held at 4321 Palmyra St in New Orleans, December 17 from 4-7.

“ Eddie will forever have a special place in my heart. The first time that I met him I was in awe of how much he reminded me of my own son and from that day on he became my "other" son. I came to love him as my son and will be forever grateful that I had an opportunity to share a small portion of his life. Although he was not in my life for a long time, the impact that he had is everlasting. I love you Eddie and look forward to seeing you in our next lifetime.
