“ Steve was one of my first friends when I started playing football as a kid. We were the bad kids on team. Fighting people from teams all the time.. even fighting each other once at his birthday party before we were even teenagers. As we grew older, we became hunting partners and both there when we killed our first deer. We stayed close friends and teammates all through high school and spent many a mischief night with the team toilet papering the field hockey team's houses. After school we drifted apart, as many people do.. but we always kept in touch. Mainly just random jokes here and there on social media, but keeping in touch nonetheless. I was really shocked today to hear he passed. My thoughts and prayers with his family and friends. Fare thee well my brother. May the four winds blow you safely home. 🙏🙏🙏

“ I'm remember when we built a two story fort in Steve's backyard. We slept out there every weekend all summer. I remember football at LP. I remember going to the mall every Friday and hunting every Saturday. We grew apart over the years but Steve was a great friend growing up. He was an important part of who I was as a kid and who I am now. I'll miss that mischievous smile forever. My prayers are with his family and friends. Until we meet again? Old friend. Rest easy.
