“Trinity wasn't just my sister — she was my built-in best friend, my midnight Denny's dinner date, my spontaneous movie buddy, and my passenger princess on late-night drives. She was the one who taught me how to drive in her Grand Marquis, who demolished oatmeal cream pies, who had the best taste in music and always shared her favorite songs with me. She gave the best hugs and held on until you pulled away. She could make me laugh with the dumbest (and most-time darkest) of jokes. I'll miss her every day, and I'll carry her in every joke, every song, every late-night drive, and every 'let's go eat' that comes to mind. Always my sister, always my favorite person.
