I see the beauty that lies,
is it just my imagination?
But as I look deep into my heart forever nothing will set us apart you will always be with me. Your*

“ It was my great pleasure to get hired at the New Orleans Public Library by Ms. Wilma Devoe. To work with her as she led the successful Learning Center was a wonderful career experience. She was tirelessly dedicated, career focused, and possessed a genuine respect and care for the students she served. She was vastly talented in creating learning environments that fostered literacy, and many students gained skills because of her implementation of programs and teaching strategies and acumen. The students would acquire skills in basic and workforce literacy, earn the GED, and become much more productive in their lives. Ms. Devoe was fiercely and highly motivated, ingenious, and approachable and genial so that students felt comfortable sharing with her their literacy needs. She will be missed, and I can proudly say she was the best mentor, manager, and leader that I had the privilege to work with.

“ "Friends will come and go, taking on more or less importance as you move through different phases of life." Michelle Obama

Wilma, we were blessed to have had you as a friend since our high school days. Even though over the years we have lived in different cities and have had different experiences, our friendship with you has remained solid. We will cherish the memories we shared and the good times we have enjoyed. We are thankful we were there to support each other during the challenging times.

Rest well our friend. We love you and will miss you.
